Keene State College

Founded in 1909 with 27 students as a two-year normal school to train teachers for rural classrooms, the school expanded into four-year programs in 1939, when it was named Keene Teachers College. Graduate studies were introduced after World War II, and in 1963 the institution became Keene State College, part of the University System of New Hampshire and authorized by the legislature to provide curricula in the liberal arts and sciences. Today the College has more than 5,700 students on its 170-acre campus and offers nearly 40 programs of study.

As a public liberal arts college, Keene State is distinguished by an academic program designed to develop the habits of mind – critical reading, precise writing, creative thinking – that prepare students for professional work and good citizenship. The school provides a wealth of opportunities for collaboration among students, faculty, and community partners. Students who walk down Appian Way for the first time find small classes, personal attention from superb faculty, experiential learning, an appreciation of diversity, and a sense of community that values the whole person. Supportive residential life programs, the chance to study abroad, and the excitement and challenge of championship Division III athletics round out the Keene State experience. The motto “Enter to learn, go forth to serve” engraved on the Appian Gateway becomes a touchstone in the lives of graduates.

Lift Voices High

The Keene State College Alma Mater

On lilac paths we've strolled, past halls in ivy twined,
'Neath Mount Monadnock rising bold,
Our college stands enshrined.

A toast to Keene, to days gone by,
For days to come, lift voices high and sing.

For Keene State College stands, throughout the mist of time,
Yet strong she spreads her knowledge grand, eternally benign.

A toast to Keene, to days gone by,
For days to come, lift voices high and sing.

Words by Katherine Day Bourne '60, Patricia Piper Bushey '59, and Judith Palmer Marshall '59

Music by Ann Weeks Pearson '59
Arranged by Professor William D. Pardus (1991)

Jeanne Shaheen

Commencement Address

Jeanne Shaheen is the first woman to be elected Governor of New Hampshire, the first woman in history to have been elected both a Governor and a United States Senator, and the first woman from New Hampshire to be elected to the U.S. Senate. She has served in the United States Senate since 2009, is a member of the Senate Committees on Armed Services, Foreign Relations, Appropriations, and Small Business and Entrepreneurship, and is the dean of the New Hampshire congressional delegation.

Although neither of Senator Shaheen's parents graduated from college, her father worked his way up to a management position in the shoe manufacturing business and her mother worked as a secretary in their local church. After attending public schools, Senator Shaheen received a bachelor's degree from Shippensburg University in Pennsylvania and a master's degree from the University of Mississippi. She taught high school in Mississippi and moved to New Hampshire in 1973, where she taught school and owned a small business.

Senator Shaheen has been involved in all levels of New Hampshire life. She was chair of Madbury's zoning board and co-chair of the New Hampshire Commission on the Status of Women. She was the co-founder of Somersworth's International Children's Festival and director of two successful New Hampshire presidential primary campaigns.

Senator Shaheen served as Governor of New Hampshire from 1997 to 2003. During her three terms, she balanced the state's budget each year.

As Governor, she led trade missions to England, Ireland, Northern Ireland, Germany, Denmark, Mexico, and Canada. As an election monitor for the National Democratic Institute, she has monitored elections in Nigeria, Armenia, and the Middle East.

She has demonstrated an ongoing commitment to education. She helped make college more affordable through a tax-free college tuition savings plan, the Granite State Scholars program, and greater state support for public universities and community colleges. Her kindergarten initiative has made public kindergarten a reality for over 25,000 additional children and the innovative children's health insurance program she launched has extended affordable health coverage to tens of thousands of New Hampshire children.

Between her time as Governor and election to the U.S. Senate, she served as the director of Harvard University's Institute of Politics at the Kennedy School of Government, inspiring a new generation of political leaders to bring both education and ethics to their careers.

Margaret Russell Ramsay '56 M'64 Granite State Award

Keene State College today honors Margaret Russell Ramsay '56 M'64, who has been a dedicated volunteer in service of Keene State College and the State of New Hampshire, serving in many capacities over many years.

Her willingness to stand up for what she believes, and to advocate for Keene State College on multiple fronts, is unequaled. The thousands of hours of hard work she has put into making the College, and the state, a better place have also served as an amazing testament to this institution.

Ms. Ramsay began her professional life as a teacher, teaching in Marlborough and Keene.

She was elected to the KSC Alumni Board of Directors in 1969, and served as that body's president from 1970-72. During her tenure, Ms. Ramsay worked to complete the renovation of the College Camp on Wilson Pond. She also represented Keene State Alumni on the USNH Board of Trustees for eight years, beginning in 1970.

From 1976 until 1988, she served as the Swansey representative to the New Hampshire House of Representatives, serving on the Arts and Education Committee, among many others, during which time she worked to collect support and funding for the Redfern Arts Center on Brickyard Pond.

In 1983, Ms. Ramsay received the Sprague W. Drenan Award, given annually to alumni for their participation in and support of alumni activities.

In 1984, she was one of only 75 recipients of the College's Jubilee Medallion, awarded to those who had contributed to Keene State's success in its first 75 years.

In 1988, Ms. Ramsay returned to Keene State for a decade, serving students first as the continuing education coordinator and later in the office of Advancement and Alumni Affairs.

She was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Keene Endowment Association beginning in 1972 and was the Association's president from 1990-2004, managing the independent charitable entity in its mission of providing assistance to deserving students at Keene State.

For decades of seemingly tireless service to New Hampshire and to Keene State College, we are pleased to present her with the Granite State Award.

Fernand Prevost '57

Honorary Doctor of Science degree

Keene State College today honors Fernand Prevost '57 for his contributions to mathematics education over 50 years on regional, state, and national stages, as well as for his service to the College as an alumnus.

Dr. Prevost served for 30 years as the New Hampshire State Mathematics Consultant. In this role, he touched the lives of countless mathematics teachers and students at all grade levels.

He often presented workshops for teachers with a vision of making New Hampshire mathematics classrooms vibrant and dynamic learning centers.

Fifty years ago, Dr. Prevost and mathematics education colleagues established the New Hampshire Teachers of Mathematics Association (NHTM). In 1994, NHTM recognized him for his service to the profession by creating the Fernand J. Prevost Mathematics Teaching Award. This award is given annually to a New Hampshire mathematics teacher in her/his first, second, or third year who meets criteria based on characteristics that Dr. Prevost exemplified in his own teaching.

Dr. Prevost has also contributed to mathematics education on a national level via his work with the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics (NCTM) and with the Association of State Supervisors of Mathematics (ASSM). Not only has he been an invited speaker at numerous regional and national meetings of NCTM and ASSM over the years, he has served on innumerable committees of both organizations, always lending his support to those in national leadership positions.

In 2007, the Mathematics Departments of the University System of New Hampshire (KSC, PSU, UNH-Durham, and UNH-Manchester) came together to honor him for his outstanding contributions to mathematics education. He also received the Granite State Award from what was then Plymouth State College in 1985.

Dr. Prevost cites his education at Keene State College as a foundation for his success in teaching. In the 56 years since his graduation, he has brought great recognition not only to the discipline of mathematics education but also to Keene State. He is highly respected by generations of Keene State educators, and is seen as a leader among them.

He and his wife, Myrna '58, have also been involved alumni, attending hundreds of alumni programs over the years. Dr. Prevost exudes pride in Keene State and reinforces that pride in other alumni.

For his achievement in his field and his contributions to mathematics education in New Hampshire and far beyond, we are pleased to award him the honorary Doctor of Science degree.

The Academic Procession

The academic procession is derived from European religious processions of the 12th and 13th centuries, when universities were forming but were still closely associated with the medieval church. The procession is comprised of members of the Keene State faculty and administrative staff, in order of length of service, with those with the longest tenure appearing first. This group is followed by members of today's platform party. The final two participants to move onto the stage will be mace bearer Carl R. Granquist, professor of history, and Interim President Jay Kahn.

The Mace

The word mace is derived from the Latin mateola, meaning mallet or staff. In the Middle Ages, these staffs, with a ball of copper or brass at one end, were used as weapons against armored warriors. As weaponry became more sophisticated, the mace evolved as a symbol of power. Universities in Europe adopted the mace as a symbol of authority and unity, and today many institutions use the mace in a ceremonial capacity. A new Keene State College mace was presented to President Yarosewick by the KSC Alumni Association at his inauguration in 1995. Fashioned of black walnut and brass, the mace was made by Charles Sheaff, a member of the class of 1972 and professor of industrial technology. The mace is carried to official College functions by the senior faculty member in length of service to the College.

Gonfalons

Gonfalons are the flags that lead the procession of candidates into Commencement. Each gonfalon contains the Keene State College seal and the name of the school it represents: Arts and Humanities, Professional and Graduate Studies, and Sciences and Social Sciences. The primary colors in the banner represent Keene State College, and the colored trim represents the disciplines within the school. In the 12th century, gonfalons became the symbol of a state, family, or office. Since that time, they have become part of academic ceremonies, including commencements, convocations, and special events, such as the installation of a president.

Academic Regalia

The caps, gowns, and hoods seen today evolved from European medieval costumes worn during religious processions to distinguish church and university members from the laity. Most medieval scholars had taken at least minor orders and, like clerics, wore long robes for warmth in unheated buildings.

Modern academic costume in the United States is based on an intercollegiate code established in 1895. Most gowns are black, although in recent years more American universities have allowed the use of their college colors. The hood, which drapes over the back of the gown, carries the greatest symbolism of all the components of the academic costume. It dates back to the 12th century, when it functioned as a head cover and shoulder cape. The hood lining, which is exposed in the center as it lies over the back of the gown, matches the color or colors of the degree-granting institution, and the velvet trim on the hood reveals the wearer's major field of study. Those who hold more than one academic degree may wear only one hood at a time.

Academic Honors Recognition

Students graduating with honors from Keene State College enter the Commencement Ceremony wearing gold tassels. The tassels, awarded for outstanding academic accomplishment, are presented to the students at the Spring Honors Convocation on Friday afternoon.

International Sashes

Two groups of students wear international sashes during the Commencement Ceremony: international students and students who have participated in a Keene State College-sponsored study away program for credit. The sash represents the international student's country of origin or the host nation of the study away program.

Honor Cords and Red Sashes

Some graduating seniors wear cords or sashes representing membership in an honor society. Red sashes may also indicate participation in a recognized student organization.

The Recessional

Since the College's 75th anniversary year, the tradition of "clapping through" has been added to the Commencement recessional. Faculty and staff lead the recessional in two columns down the center aisle and out to Appian Way. The two rows turn and face each other, applauding as the graduates pass through. Clapping through allows the faculty and staff to congratulate the new degree recipients during the recessional. Graduates, faculty, staff, and families are then invited to the President's Reception at the Zorn Dining Commons and plaza.
