KEENE STATE COLLEGE

Keene, New Hampshire

WELCOME TO KEENE STATE COLLEGE

Keene State College holds its distinction as the public liberal arts college of New Hampshire. We strive to be accessible to all students with the aptitude and motivation to succeed in a diverse and globally informed community and dedicate our resources to providing a curriculum that prepares them for the needs and challenges of the greater world.

Keene State College was founded in 1909 with a mission to prepare forward-thinking educators. The College became part of the University System of New Hampshire in 1963, increased our academic offerings in the arts and sciences, and introduced graduate degree programs. Keene State continues to evolve to offer a mission-based spectrum of academic programs grounded in the liberal arts. Today, we offer undergraduate degrees across more than 40 areas of study, six master's degree programs, and post-master's certification programs.

We are particularly proud of our reputation as a college that welcomes and supports first-generation students. Our faculty create exceptional learning opportunities and inspire our students to exceed their own expectations. From the first year, our students are invited to engage in various academic experiences that promote active learning and to build community through the many rewarding opportunities of an on-campus residential experience. Our students are encouraged to participate in real-world engagement, service to the community, dedicated research, and study away experiences.

Through all the challenges our graduates have encountered, whether as scholars or as citizens, they have proved themselves resilient and adaptable. Keene State College has provided them with a liberal arts foundation of creative and critical thinking that will equip them for careers and experiences defined by complex problem-solving and innovation.

Granite State Award

JODI PICOULT

Keene State College honors Jodi Picoult with its annual Granite State Award. Jodi is an award-winning and best-selling author. Her 28 novels and short-story collections have sold more than 40 million copies in 35 countries.

Surely, many of you who join us today have enjoyed the fruits of her storytelling talents, been caught up in the sense of adventure with which she writes, and pulled —deftly and anticipatorily—to that emotional, final-pages destination so many of her books deliver.

Ms. Picoult is recognized today for her literary achievements, which uplift and give value and meaning to the field of arts and humanities, and as such reflect the vision and values of Keene State.

She understands the profound power of writing for an audience, and her stories of life's shaping moments—family, childhood, struggle, reconciliation—resonate across generations and captivate book buyers around the world.

The Granite State Award is presented annually to a person or persons, agency, corporation, or foundation demonstrating outstanding achievement in their field and contributing significantly to the welfare or success of the state.

Ms. Picoult is a resident of Hanover, NH, and many of her novels are set in the state. She received a bachelor's degree in English from Princeton University and a master's degree in education from Harvard University. She has received honorary doctorates from Dartmouth College and the University of New Haven.

Two of Ms. Picoult's books debuted at number one on the NY Times best-seller list, a third reached that lofty perch. A handful of her books have also been adapted for film and television.

We love that Ms. Picoult wrote her first book, The Lobster Which Misunderstood, at age five and that she calls her mother and grandmother, former teachers, influential in her writing and career success. A review used "unputdownable!" to describe one of her books. We might add another word: "unstoppable."

Keene State College is delighted to present Jodi Picoult with the 2025 Granite State Award and conveys its gratitude and congratulations for not just her writing genius and the timelessness of her books but her love for words and sharing them so generously.

Honorary Doctorate of Letters

DAVID WENHOLD '90

Keene State College proudly honors David Wenhold '90 with an honorary doctor of letters degree.

We bestow this degree in recognition of Mr. Wenhold's powerful and inspirational story, highlighted but not limited to his extensive and admirable philanthropic work, a relentless pursuit of driving positive and meaningful change in government relations and lobbying, and a genuine desire to help others.

The College confers the doctor of letters each year on an outstanding individual of national or international importance whose contributions have enhanced society or have otherwise brought significant enrichment or benefit to a particular group.

Mr. Wenhold's contributions, ranging and consequential, embody the full spirit of this high honor. A leader, a visionary, a strategy-builder, a collaborator, and a chief executive are but some of his distinguishing qualities. He joins us today, 35 years, almost to the day since he crossed this stage as a first-generation college graduate with a degree in political science.

Mr. Wenhold is the chief executive officer of Kautter Wenhold Management Group, co-partner of Miller/Wenhold Capitol Strategies, and executive director of the National Court Reporters Association. His work has spanned government relations, grassroots lobbying, trade association management, and organizational development.

The lobbying and advocacy work he engaged in led to Congress earmarking tens of millions of dollars for the court reporting profession. Among Mr. Wenhold's other consequential professional achievements is playing a role in a constitutional challenge victory in the courts.

He was awarded the Call to Service Award by former President George W. Bush. The distinction, the country's highest award for citizen volunteerism, was for Mr. Wenhold's work with the American League of Lobbyists on Capitol PurSuit, a volunteer effort to provide professional attire to people searching for work. Mr. Wenhold is the first lobbyist to receive this award.

In recognition of his long-standing drive and focus to help others, his impactful advocacy, his charitable initiatives, and his anything-is-possible tenacity, Keene State College is proud to confer this degree on Mr. David Wenhold.

LIFT VOICES HIGH

The Keene State College Alma Mater

On lilac paths we've strolled, past halls in ivy twined,
'Neath Mount Monadnock rising bold,
Our college stands enshrined.
A toast to Keene, to days gone by,
For days to come, lift voices high and sing.

For Keene State College stands, throughout the mist of time,
Yet strong she spreads her knowledge grand, eternally benign.
A toast to Keene, to days gone by,
For days to come, lift voices high and sing.

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

The academic procession is derived from European religious processions of the 12th and 13th centuries, when universities were forming but were still closely associated with the medieval church. The procession is comprised of members of the Keene State faculty and administrative staff, in order of length of service, with those with the longest tenure appearing first. This group is followed by members of today's platform party. The final two participants to move onto the stage will be mace bearer Céline Perron, professor of theatre & dance, and President Melinda D. Treadwell.

THE MACE

The word "mace" is derived from the Latin "mateola," meaning mallet or staff. In the Middle Ages, these staffs, with a ball of copper or brass at one end, were used as weapons against armored warriors. As weaponry became more sophisticated, the mace evolved as a symbol of power. Universities in Europe adopted the mace as a symbol of authority and unity, and today institutions use the mace in a ceremonial capacity. A new Keene State College mace was presented to President Yarosewick by the Keene State College Alumni Association at his inauguration in 1995. Fashioned of black walnut and brass, the mace was made by Professor Charles Sheaff, a member of the Class of 1972. The mace is carried to official functions by the mace bearer, the senior faculty member in length of service.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The caps, gowns, and hoods seen today evolved from European medieval costumes worn during religious processions to distinguish church and university members from the laity. Most medieval scholars had taken at least minor orders and, like clerics, wore long robes for warmth in unheated buildings.

Modern academic costume in the United States is based on an intercollegiate code established in 1895. Most gowns are black, although, in recent years, more American universities have allowed the use of their college colors.

The master's hood, which drapes over the back of the gown, carries the greatest symbolism of all the components of the academic costume. It dates back to the 12th century, when it functioned as a headcover and shoulder cape. The hood lining, which is exposed in the center as it lies over the back of the gown, matches the color or colors of the degree-granting institution, and the velvet trim on the hood reveals the wearer's major field of study. Those who hold more than one academic degree may wear only one hood at a time.

GONFALON

The gonfalon is the flag that leads the procession of candidates into Commencement. In the 12th century, gonfalons became the symbol of a state, family, or office. Since that time, they have become part of academic ceremonies, including commencements, convocations, and special events, such as the installation of a president. The gonfalon used in today's ceremony was commissioned by the College in 2025.

ACADEMIC HONORS RECOGNITION

Students graduating with honors from Keene State College enter the Commencement Ceremony wearing gold tassels.

INTERNATIONAL SASHES

Two groups of students wear international sashes during the Commencement Ceremony: international students and students who have participated in a Keene State College-sponsored study away program for credit. The sash represents the international student's country of origin or the host nation of the study away program.

HONOR CORDS & RED SASHES

Some graduating seniors wear cords or sashes representing membership in an honor society or honorable military service. Red sashes may also indicate participation in a recognized student organization.

THE PRESIDENT'S MEDALLION

A new tradition, beginning with the class of 2019, the President's Medallion is a gift from President Treadwell to the graduating class. The medallion ties into our College motto and our traditions of clapping in our first-year students and clapping through our graduates. When they pass through the Keene State College arch onto Appian Way, our first-year students "Enter to Learn." The President's Medallion, embossed with the words "Go Forth to Serve," is worn by our graduates when they are clapped through by the staff and faculty at the end of Commencement.

THE RECESSIONAL

Since the College's 75th anniversary year in 1984, the tradition of "clapping through" has been added to the Commencement recessional. Faculty and staff lead the recessional in two columns down the center aisle and out to Appian Way. The two rows turn and face each other, applauding as the graduates pass through. Clapping through allows the faculty and staff to congratulate the new degree recipients during the recessional.
