How can I make a report to Campus Safety?
Reports can be made in a variety of ways:
• Call 9-1-1 in an emergency.
• Call 603-358-2228 (8-2228 from on campus) to reach Campus Safety Dispatch.
• Call 603-357-9813 to reach the Keene Police Department directly.
• Activate one of over seventy blue light phones on campus for a direct connection to Campus Safety.
• Use the Silent Witness link on the Campus Safety web page to anonymously report incidents. Silent Witness is not monitored 24 hours a day, and is therefore not an emergency reporting option.

Campus Safety
The Keene State College Department of Campus Safety is committed to supporting the educational mission of Keene State College by creating and maintaining a safe and secure environment through effective, efficient, and consistent service to every member of the College community.

Does Campus Safety enforce laws?
Campus Safety has the authority to enforce Keene State College policies. We are not a police department; Campus Safety officers don’t have sworn police powers or powers of arrest. To ensure the safety of our students, we do work closely with the Keene Police Department. A City of Keene police officer serves as a liaison between the two departments, provides additional patrols in communities abutting the College, and assists the College with investigations of alleged criminal acts at Keene State.

We pride ourselves on our ability to build relationships, across campus and within the community. We work closely with many other on- and off-campus partners, including the Keene Fire Department, the Center for Health and Wellness, the Title IX Office, the Counseling Center, Residential Life, the Student Conduct Office, the Monadnock Center for Violence Prevention, and the Cheshire County Sexual Assault Resource Team.

What is Campus Safety responsible for?
That’s a long list! Officers provide 24-hour dispatch and patrol to campus. Here is just a sample of the rest of what we do:

- Emergency response on campus
- Crime alerts, emergency notifications, and campus alerts
- Shuttle and safety escorts
- Emergency and fire egress drills
- Parking services and jumpstarts
- Visitor information
- Access control and CCTV monitoring
- Educational programs for students, faculty, and staff
- Maintaining campus crime data and activity

If a student is subject to criminal or College disciplinary proceedings, will parents be notified?
Not in most circumstances. The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) restricts what information can and can’t be shared. Disciplinary records generally cannot be shared.

If a student is ill or injured, will the College call their parents?
The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) also restricts what information can and can’t be shared; however, the College will notify the student’s emergency contact person if appropriate.

How can I stay informed in the event of an emergency?
Keene State uses Dial My Calls, an opt-in emergency notification system that can be accessed at https://keene.notifypanel.com/, to provide timely information to the College community. Students and parents can register to get calls, texts, and/or emails about severe weather, safety emergencies, or imminent threats to the safety of the College community.

How does Keene State control access to campus buildings?
During the academic year, exterior doors to traditional and suite-style residence halls are locked 24 hours a day; students gain access by using their ID cards. When doors to other buildings are unlocked, we have the ability to electronically “lock down” a majority of them within moments of a reported emergency.

What happens in the event of a sexual misconduct or relationship violence?
Keene State takes sexual assault and relationship violence very seriously. Any report of sexual or relationship violence is reported to the Title IX coordinator. The Title IX Coordinator will assist any student in connecting with resources and support and will ensure that the College conducts prompt, equitable, and appropriate investigation. The policy, which also includes resources for support, can be found at www.keene.edu/administration/policy/detail/handbook/sexual-misconduct/.
